Issued To: Steve Nixon

Completed Status: Still Outstanding

Notes:

Added by Catrin Hird sent to Steve Nixon

Memo from 2510010:

Memo (Memos updated 15 Aug 2019 By Steve Nixon)
Sales suspended for the time being. We are editing the manual and producing new labelling... This is to make it absolutely clear that just for veterinary use.

We have had enquiries from medical personnel, so with the unit in its present condition we can not take the risk of units migrating to medical applications.

SN

2810011 showing as actively available. I briefly remember discussing this with you regarding completely discontinuing it. Is this the case and if so can the system be updated?

_____

25 Feb 2022 Catrin HirdApologies, should be part number 2510011.

_____

16 Aug 2022 Steve Nixon

Priority Changed From 5 To 4 2510010 shows as superseded by 2510011, so the distinction is clearer.

As recently discussed Thames Medical is reviewing whether to buy large quantity and/or process through UKCA as Thames Medical.

As discussed we will resolve by 31/12/2022 as that is when we will have needed to process through UKCA.

From Mike
Great questions, elbow (forelimb) is fine, knee is hind leg (thats where the patella is).
Reversal agent is not actually the correct term for either human or veterinary. . .it is correctly referred to as an `"antagonist" that said we don`t use neostigmine nor do vets use ve uranium, when they are blocking it is done as a local not general paralysing agent. . . .even for ventilation!

08 Nov 2021 Catrin HirdTotal of 7 sold in 2021 to 3 different customers.

We could potentially purchase/research a Veterinary database or we could contact a few local surgeries and see if this sort of product is something which they would purchase. Someone could also speak to Mike Brampton for this thoughts?

Pricing is wrong. Appears to be using the dollar price for 2810011 and 2810050 but correctly shows the GBP price for 0022191.

23 Dec 2021 Steve HardakerRe-visited this as you were working on SOR page yesterday, the pricing is still wrong.

The price for 25100050 on the MIA Agreement / Delivery Note is still showing as Â£33.33, this is the End User USD price and has never been the UK selling price.

You can check this live as it`s still an active SOR, but not for long as I`ve sent the proforma to Procurement requesting payment.
