Hello Ruby,

There is no expiry date on the sensor, we recommend that oxygen sensors are kept sealed in their original packaging until needed, and should ideally be put into service within the warranty period, which in this case is 15 months.

They can use them after that time, but the lifespan will be shorter and the warranty will no longer apply.

Hope this helps.

I am just doing your quote, let me know if you want to change the amount, and I will send it shortly.
