Dear Dimitrios

We have more production sensors due by the end of January. However, the demand is growing even more and production needs to be much quicker. We also have a backlog of orders at the moment.

If you need sensors, then I strongly advise that you place firm orders ASAP. As you know we also have to select sensors to meet your requirements.

The added issue is that Teledyne are increasing prices, effective as of the 1st January, I hope to be able to provide confirmed pricing next week.

In the meantime may I wish you, your family and everyone at PNOE and XHALE a Healthy and Happy New Year.

Regards
