Hi Steve,

As discussed, we will have to take 100x Teledyne R-22AV (p/n 0110132) sensors. I have amended the existing order for the 100 AVG's to these if you could supply next week please.

If you could let me know towards month end what the current supply situation is with the R22AVG's please.

Many Thanks

Ryan Curzon

Hi Ryan,

I hope you are well. Just a quick update to advise you that the R-22AVG for your order (ref 167664) have not yet landed in stock: Aqib was processing the order following your advice on not adding shipping insurance and noted the expired pricing.

With regards to stock, we are still awaiting sensors to fulfil your order; the factory is undergoing a backlog as it has once again been hit by COVID affecting production capacity. Unfortunately, they may be delayed into May but we are hopeful they will arrive sooner.

How desperate are you for stock, are you able to estimate when you will run out? If you need sensors urgently, the only viable option at the moment is the Teledyne R-22AV (p/n 0110132), which we have in stock.

If you want some of those, we can supply 100-off right away but this would unfortunately be at a higher unit price.

If you want a smaller quantity, these are priced at £24.20+VAT per unit for any quantity 25 units or over, so you could place an emergency order for those if required to see you through and leave the 100-off R-22AVG on back order.

Please can you let me Aqib (cc'd in) know how you would like to proceed?

Best Regards,

Steve Hardaker
