Hi Kate,

Thanks for the info, I will get an order for the items put onto our system now. I was just about to respond to a previous email regarding the repair of an O2 analyser, sorry I have been on holiday hence the late reply. You sent myself a quote for the repair of analyser s/n 339155 however the quote says the O2 cell is the problem and requires replacement. We currently still have one in stock so if the analyser could be returned, we will carry out the repair ourselves. Thanks again for all your help with the spare parts information

Kind Regards,
Daniel

Subject: Battery door for AX/MX300

Good afternoon Daniel,

Further to our telephone conversation just now, the battery door for the AX/MX300 costs £5 each and is part number 0121211.

Please see attached price list for other spares. The battery door would have a carriage charge of £8, but if you are purchasing it with a medical oxygen sensor, carriage would be free.

Many thanks.

Kind regards

Kate Griffiths
