Hi Luis

We have the stock available. Once you are ready to proceed, we can send you a proforma invoice, then as soon as payment is received we will ship the sensors.

The sensors are always sealed in a labelled gas barrier bag, but you have the option of whether you would like each sensor also individually boxed. There is no difference in cost, apart from the carriage charges would be lower if the sensors are bulk packed. Please just let us know when you place an order.

Best regards

Ryan

Dear Ryan,

We will shortly send you the corresponding purchase order for the sensors..., but we have a question to ask you.

Please, could you be able to send the order to Paraguay, instead of to Argentina...? These sensors belong to equipment going to Paraguay, and if you can send them directly there, it will help us a lot, avoiding the scale in Argentina.

What would you need from us, besides the delivery address, and contact person...? Any additional documentation in particular...?

Tks in advance for yr kind help and prompt reply.

Dear Luis

Thank you very much for your email.

The sensor you have purchased from us in the past is the R-17MED.

Although the R-17MED contains lead, it is still RoHS compliant, as there is an exemption on oxygen sensors for medical use.

R-17MED - pn. 0110017 = USD $43.10 each EXW (based on orders of 25+)

We can offer an alternative to the R-17MED which is more economical, which also contains lead, but is also RoHS compliant:

R-17Vi - pn. 0110019 = USD $32.50 each EXW

We are currently waiting on some lead free options that would be a direct replacement for the R-17MED and R-17Vi in the future. We are expecting to receive some samples soon of the OOLMF103-1, we would be happy to make one available to you as soon as they are ready. I had already discussed this in the past with your colleague Juan Manuel.

I look forward to your reply and please let me know if you have any further questions.

Kind regards

Ryan
