Good afternoon,

Thank you for your 15 orders. My colleague and myself are inputting these now. Just to double check, these orders are often for the same item and some are from as far back as February 2023.

Are all the orders still required? We will of course check our system to see if any of these orders have been fulfilled already.

Kind regards

Kate Griffiths

Good afternoon,

Unfortunately I can confirm that none of these orders have been received. As mentioned before, we always send an email confirmation (to the email address on the PO) when orders have been received by us.

I can see from previous emails that we often do not receive orders from your team.

Would you like to reply to this email with the purchase orders?

Kind regards

Kate Griffiths
