NO PSC - COMPANIES

It appears that your company has no PSC information, unfortunately your PSC register can never be blank. If you do not currently have a named PSC in your register you should consider which of the 7 following statements should be entered into your register:

- The company knows or has reasonable cause to believe that there is no registrable person or registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company.
- The company knows or has reasonable cause to believe that there is a registrable person in relation to the company but it has not identified the registrable person.
- The company has identified a registrable person in relation to the company but all the required particulars of that person have not been confirmed.
- The company has not yet completed taking reasonable steps to find out if there is anyone who is a registrable person or a registrable relevant legal entity in relation to the company.
- The company has given a notice under section 790D of the Act which has not been complied with.
- The addressee has failed to comply with a notice given by the company under section 790E of the Act.
- The company has issued a restrictions notice under paragraph 1 of Schedule 1B to the Act.

You should then update your records at Companies House by completing the form below-

PSC08 – Notification of PSC statements

Alternatively, if you have identified a PSC you should record the details in your PSC register and inform Companies House by filing one or more of the following forms -

PSC01 – Notice of individual with significant control (PSC)

PSC02 – Notice of relevant legal entity (RLE) with significant control

PSC03 – Notice of other registrable person (ORP) with significant control

Further guidance can be found on our website www.companieshouse.gov.uk/psc

Please ensure that your register is updated within the next 14 days.

If you have recently updated your PSC register, please disregard this letter.
