Would it be possible for you to forward samples of the sensor to allow us to assess it?

Dear Mr. Michael Garrett

One of your colleagues gave me your details.

We have recently launched some new disposable EEG sensors for use with BIS enabled monitors.

I am pleased to inform you that we offer a high quality product that has undergone extensive testing at a very economical price.

Please find our brochure and pricing attached. On the second page of the brochure, we have listed some examples of the monitors that the sensors can be used with.

Please let me know if you have any questions or if you would like to try some samples.

I look forward to your response.

Kind regards

Ryan
