Hi,

Please see attached order from Premier Diagnostics for the next 6 months up to the year end.

When adding the lines, please take care to note the due dates and set them to come live the day before their required-by dates. Cathy advises that 1 day will be enough as they don't need testing.

I have acknowledged the order with the customer, and they have already added the carriage as separate lines. Any queries, please let me know, thanks.

Steve

Hi Steve,

That's great, thank you.

I have specified the 10th July for the 'extra' 100 and have included the rest of our requirements on the new order attached.

Kind Regards

Jenny

Hi Jenny,

I have moved the delivery date for order ref 1458-5 for 150 units forward to land on Wed 12th June.

As of right now, we have enough stock to ship another 100 immediately, so if you can send me an order today, we will get them out ASAP.

If you would prefer them to land on a specific date, please state the required-by date on the order: this will allocate the stock to your order but they won't ship until the date you specified.

Then after we have these initial orders out of the way, we can look at your forward orders.

If you have any questions, please let me know.

Best regards,

Hi Steve,

Ideally 100, but 70 would help cover us in the interim.

Yes, that would work. If you can let me know when more stock arrives and ill get a new order straight over to you.

Kind Regards

Jenny

Hi Jenny,

How many more do you need? We might be able to do it but we are running a bit low on available stock, we have some more coming in which should arrive early next week.

Do you want me to bring order ref 1458/5 (for 150 units) forward to land with you on Wednesday 12th and you put another order in for delivery as soon as stock lands?

Hi Steve,

That's great. End of next week, if possible, please.

I don't suppose you have any more stock of these? We could ideally do with another delivery on 12.07.24 to cover us before our new scheduled order would kick in.

Kind Regards

Jenny

Hi Steve,

I'll get a new order over to you. With reference the last 150 is there any possibility of these being shipped to us sooner than 04.07.24?

Hi Jenny,

Following the delivery today of 150x R-22AVG, I just need to let you know that we now only have 1 forward-order left on the system from order ref 1458, which is due to ship on 4th July.

The manufacturing lead-time on batches is around 8 weeks, so we need to start looking at your requirements for August and beyond. Could I ask you to review this with a view to placing monthly call-offs?

As before, we can take this as a single order with multiple lines, each with separate delivery dates, and we will invoice them as we deliver with an incrementing suffix, i.e. order ref 1234/x. Carriage will be £12.00+VAT per shipment.

If you have any queries, please let me know, and I look forward to hearing from you.
