their bank are sending us GB Pounds in to our US Dollar account and its costing us in exchange rate difference . Ive put the on stop for now as they are going to have to pay the difference . you have already told them about it before and they don't seem to have listened. They this time they are 153.63 usd short on the payment.

We can always invoice them in GB pounds moving forwards but otherwise they wont be getting orders until the pay the difference and/or making sure their bank are processing their payments correctly.
