Hi Folks

Another returned R22A that I don't know what to do with. I'm enclosing the letter I got when it returned this was preceded by a phone call telling me that the internal packaging had been found open when the box had been opened.

I have no way to prove either way and you are my go to guys to help me out as to your thoughts on the matter.

Please just let me have your input as to what you think may have happened.

Yours faithfully
