Hi again

Unfortunately although above on the subject i wrote oxygen sensor R-22 (that is what exactly i need) in the body of my email i wrote R-26 which you send me the last time and i have just noticed that a few minutes ago that i opened the box you send me last summer by mistake probably. The problem is that the adoptors are different and i cannot use it. Unfortunately i paid for that and i did not order that. Anyway

Is there any chance for you to have in stock sensor R-22. Please do it as soon as possible because mine has expired and i dont have oxygen analyser to work with. Actually send me an invoice with two of them (R-22) and be sure that you would not send any other. Please let me know as soon as possible. Billing address and delivery address as you send on the last proforma.

Looking forward hearing from you.
