Hi Hanson

I hope you are well. Please accept my reply on behalf of my colleague Aqib.

We are certainly living in unpredictable times. Unfortunately, the US tariffs are likely to impact many people.

That said, the UK has not yet introduced any retaliatory tariffs, so goods will continue to reach us at the same cost for now. My concern is that some components used in the Teledyne O2 sensors may be sourced from outside the USA. If that's the case, Teledyne could be forced to increase their prices in response to rising costs.

So far, Teledyne has not announced any changes to their pricing, so I suppose we'll have to wait and see.

Best regards
Ryan
