ok they want to add to proforma but I advised to make a new one as I don't want any confusion like yesterday

yes that is the correct way if they want extra items they need a new proforma, and if they want it shipping with this order we can do that for them, just need notes adding to order and proforma to state that. also if they want that depending on what the extra stock is we may be able to fit it in the same box and may not cost any more for the carriage. Let me know what they want to add and I will have a look for you ok if they want them shipped together then they will fit in the same box at 1.20kg, I have checked and will not cost them any more in carriage cost, if we are doing this there will still need to be a carriage line on the new proforma and a note stating that there is no carriage charge as will be shipped with other order and does not alter the carriage cost of that order
