

Test Reports & Design Calculations

This product has been available since the introduction of cots and requires no test reports. Design has evolved over a period of years to produce a safe and easy to use product. The essential criteria is to ensure that the lid can not be dislodged and fall into the cot. Only one case has been known with a previous design by a previous manufacturer. All the existing cot lids were recalled and modified. The present design evolved to ensure no repetition.

The actual size of the lid is determined by the size of the cot.

When humidity is applied louvres are recommended.
