Hello Kate,

Sorry for my late reply. Half of the office is out sick, vomiting and feverish. I have a litter of 12-week-old corgi at home, so I have plenty to do, but we'll manage everything. I can replace everyone.

Please add the attached to our existing order and send it via UPS. Standard shipping is fine, no need for express. Our customer was raving about how urgent it was, but I haven't seen the order yet, so he can rave at home.

Good afternoon,

Just a quick message to follow up my previous email to ask if you are able to ship your order by arranging your own courier?

Kind regards

I am sorry to hear UPS are not very fast in Hungary (that sounds like an understatement!) I have asked our warehouse team and they say our price for the other couriers will be very expensive as we can offer low rates using UPS but not any other courier.

Are you able to consider arranging a courier yourself? I could update your order to show EXW.

If you do require this information, it would be tomorrow my colleague would get back to me with any other courier prices.

Dear Kate,

The problem is with UPS itself. At least here in Hungary, their work is below par, and I'm afraid that even express deliveries are not being delivered. It arrives in the country, but even a snail with a broken right rear leg is faster than them.

Could you ask Fedex TNT or DHL how much their express delivery costs? Our office and our customer are also closed on the 19th. In fact, our customer will only reopen on January 9.

Thank you.
