Hello,

With reference to our previous purchase of 5 quantities, the unit price offered to us was USD 152.00.

Now, as we are increasing the order quantity to 10 units, we would like to confirm whether the same unit price of USD 152.00 will be applicable. Additionally, we would appreciate it if you could review the pricing and advise whether there is any possibility of a further price revision considering the increased quantity.

For your reference, the details of our previous Oxiquant purchase are attached below.

As we have been associated with your organization for the past several years and this would be our 5th or 6th repeat order, we sincerely request you to consider our long-term business relationship and support us with a revised and competitive price.

Best regards,
