Notification of Change of Manufacturing Site

We are entering the final phase of our Carlisle Medical Dongguan footprint and capability expansion and would like to inform you that, LHI Technology (Shenzhen) Co. Ltd, a subsidiary of Carlisle Asia Pacific Limited, is in the process of relocating a significant portion of our manufacturing operations from Guanlan, Shenzhen to Qiaotou, Dongguan. As a result, the manufacturing of your product portfolio will be transferred to Dongguan no later than 31st October, 2017.

Carlisle's new, state of the art, manufacturing site located in Qiaotou, Dongguan is ISO 9001, 14001, 13485 certified and FDA registered. Both the LHI Technology (Shenzhen) Co. Ltd and the Qiaotou, Dongguan sites are subsidiaries of Carlisle Asia Pacific Limited and share the same management team. For this reason, you can expect continuity in your quality, service and communication levels.

Attached you will find a formal Supplier Change Request for location change that will outline the scope and timing of your product's transfer. Please review the included part number list for completeness and notify us immediately if there are any part numbers that need to be included in our planning.

Should you require additional detail please do not hesitate to contact us.

Thank you,
