Morning Steve.

Wow no good on this, but yes ok then shipping today means delivery tomorrow and please do whatever you can to get the remaining 500 sent also today.

April is next week so yes whatever you can send from April batch next week will help here, for June and July please prepare 800 for both June and July.

Kind regards

Hi Jan

I am really sorry, we missed the UPS cut off time. They are packed and ready for collection in the morning, we will pay for the shipping by Express service.

The final 500 are just about to complete through QA, we could try and ship them tomorrow or it might be safer to ship Friday. Which do you prefer?

If it helps, for the April shipment we can process another 200 early next week (Monday/Tuesday).

The total sensors for April are 800 + 200 extra as requested on 9th March.

For May 800 sensors.

I know I emailed you last week but we are going to be tight for time for a June batch production. Do you have any idea of the quantities that you will require for June and July? Even if you state a minimum, rather than leaving it too late.

Regards

Steve

Hi Jan

Apologies again for the delayed shipment of sensors:

The current orders are as follows:

March - balance of 700 sensors.

April - 1000 sensors

May - 800 sensors

Do you have any idea of your requirements for June/July? Do you want me to schedule a minimum of say 200 or 400 sensors per month?
