It's still jumping about, better send a replacement along with the with the other one, and the one for sam.

Sorry to bother you again Ryan, but they say that if you touch the sensor it is loose and the display is erratic. Do they need to open the unit to tighten the sensor?

Okay, that's strange, I would try removing and then refitting to see if that resolves the issue

Hi Ryan. I've had it confirmed. 3 sensors in total, thanks

Hi Dad, just to confirm, 2x sensors for Tek-ox, the test sensor for Sam. Should I send and bill them to you?
