Dear Sir

All of our O2 analysers and monitors will measure the O2% from O2 concentrators, but we do offer some devices that are specifically designed for that function and offer a few more parameters. Please find a few suggestions below:

0111275 Oxygen analyser OxiQuant S = USD $152 each EXW usually necessary for checking equipment like an O2 concentrator. It has a replaceable O2 sensor.

OxiQuant S Oxygen Analyser – Viamed Ltd

0111250 Handi+ Oxygen analyser with integral sensor = USD $170

This has an integrated battery and sensor, you can not replace them. When the sensor/battery dies, you will have to replace the device.

Handi+ Oxygen Analyser / Meter – Viamed Ltd

0111260 MaxO2+A Oxygen analyser = USD $328

Has a replaceable O2 sensor.

MaxO2+A Oxygen Analyser – Viamed Ltd

0111265 UltraMaxO2 Oxygen analyser = USD $534.50

This device has an ultrasonic sensor which does not require replacing. This device is specifically made for checking O2 concentrators. In addition to O2 %, it will also measure the output flow and pressure.

UltraMaxO2 Ultrasonic Oxygen Analyser – Viamed Ltd

0111266 Oxygen analyser - Smart Check = USD $534.50

This is an alternative to the Ultramax, it has the same function with the additional capability of being able to test CPAP machines that do not have a constant flow, only a pulse output.

Smart Check Ultrasonic Oxygen Analyser – Viamed Ltd

Please let me know if you have any questions or require any further information.

Kind regards

Ryan
