QUOTATION: C2606013

ITEM	QTY	DESCRIPTION	COST EACH (£)	TOTAL £s
1	1	SCHLEUNIGER B240 STRIPPING MACHINE The Strip Series B240 strip machine is characterized by its wide range of processing options. Equipped with two rotary blades, it processes coaxial cables, simple stranded wires and multiconductor cables with a cross section from 0.013 to 13 mm ² (36 to 6 A WG) and a diameter of up to 9 mm (0.35"), achieving a strip length of 39 mm (1.53") and a pull-off length of 40 mm (1.57"). In addition to the precise stripping of particularly thin micro-coaxial cables with diameters up to 0.8 mm (0.031"), it can also be used to cleanly and reliably strip challenging materials such as PUR, PVC, rubber, Teflon®, Tefzel® or textile glass braiding. Repeat accuracy, mechanical precision and short work cycles ensure high productivity. The blades and universal clamp jaws can be used across the entire range of cable processing applications. Quick changeover eliminates unnecessary downtime and to further increase productivity, this machine is fitted with a 5" colour touchscreen, giving the operator good accessibility to programming. The B240 is quick to deploy and is extremely easy to operate without programming knowledge thanks to its state-of-the-art, user-friendly software interface.	£10,970.00	£10,970.00

GENERAL CONDITIONS OF SALE

TERMS

1. The goods referred to in this quotation are for sale/sold subject to any terms incorporated in the quotation and to the following conditions only and any express or implied conditions or warranties, statutory or otherwise, not stated herein are expressly excluded.
2. This quotation or estimate is subject to confirmation on receipt of the customer's order and to the goods referred to being available for delivery of the order when received.
3. Construction of Contract
Any terms endorsed on or contained in any customer's order acceptance or confirmation which are inconsistent with these conditions and are not specifically agreed to an acknowledged by the Company shall be deemed to be superseded and nullified by these conditions.
4. Any statement with respect to capacity, dimension, description or other detail given by the Company in any quotation or communicated or made verbally and not expressly stated in the Company's confirmation of order shall be deemed to be for the guidance of the customer only and shall not be considered or implied as a condition or warranty governing amplifying or enlarging the contract or be deemed to be an express or implied term thereof.
5. Acceptance
Any offer made by the Company shall be deemed to be withdrawn unless accepted within 30 days from the date thereof. No acceptance of such offer shall be binding upon the Company unless and until such acceptance has been confirmed in writing by the Company. Orders cannot be varied, rescinded or cancelled otherwise than upon terms expressly agreed in writing by the Company and the customer.
6. Delivery
Time for delivery is given as accurately as possible but is not guaranteed nor is time the essence of the contract and any delay in delivery shall not entitle the customer to cancel any contract or to any damages whether liquidated or unliquidated or compensation for any loss by reason of or in consequence of such delay.
7. The date for delivery is that upon which the goods are ready for delivery from the Company's Works. If the contract is subject to import licences and/or currency restrictions the delivery date given shall be extended by a period equal to the period elapsing between the date upon which the order was placed and the date upon which the Company is notified in writing of the details of the import licence or of the appropriate commission with regard to payment. Any delivery date stated in the contract is given in good faith and every endeavour will be made to adhere to it, but time is not to be the essence of the contract and any delay in delivery shall not entitle the customer to cancel any contract (save as hereinafter mentioned) or to any damages whether liquidated or unliquidated or compensation for any loss by reason of or in consequence of such delay.
8. In the event of it becoming impossible for the Company to obtain the goods from its suppliers it reserves the right to cancel the order without incurring resultant liability to the customer and in such event shall be liable to repay to the customer any advance payments only insofar as a refund can be obtained from the Company's principal.
9. Erection
Erection and starting of machinery, if provided for by the confirmation of order, shall be subject to the supply by the customer of suitable accommodation for the machinery, rough labour, prime motion equipment, lifting tackle and appliances.
10. When the confirmation of order involves the provision of any labour at the customer's works or if the Company by arrangement with the customer shall provide any labour for the assistance of the customer or in starting up or testing or running any of the plant or machinery at the customer's works, the customer shall accept full responsibility for and indemnify the Company against any loss, injury or damage sustained or alleged to have risen in consequence of any defect or unsuitability in any tackle, plant or apparatus, provided for or to the Company, and against any claims by any third parties and any claims by any workman under the Factories Acts, the Employers Liability Act, or at Common Law or otherwise in respect thereof.
11. Quotations
Quotations are based upon the rate of exchange at the date of our quotation, the manufacturer's latest prices, current freight and insurance rates and to not include import duty or any other charges imposed by either governments i.e. the British government or the government of the country from which we draw our supplies. The prices therefore are subject to alteration in any of the above circumstances as applicable at the time of delivery or in the case of the rate of exchange when the customer has made their payments to us which discharges their liability for any charges, provided payment is made in compliance with our agreed terms.
12. The payment terms of the Company are strictly net cash 30 days after delivery and advance payments will not normally be requested although the Company reserves the right to make demands for such payments if it should so desire.
13. Failure on the part of the customer to pay in accordance with the terms of the contract shall entitle the Company at its option and without prejudice to all its other rights to withhold further deliveries both in respect of the contract or series of contracts in question and in any other contracts for delivery of goods to the same customer until such payment has been made but the customer shall in such event be liable to the Company for the cost of all articles acquired or made by the Company for the purpose of future deliveries to the customer less any allowance of the value thereof as realised or as utilised by the Company for other purposes.
14. Payment shall be made direct to the Company and the Company's receipt shall be the only acknowledged discharge of any debt.
15. Interest on Overdue Accounts
The Company reserves the right to charge interest on overdue accounts at the rate of three percent per annum above the Bank of England rate for the time being with a minimum of seven and one half percent per annum on overdue accounts and such interest shall be calculated from the date when payment was due to the date of actual payment.
16. Passing of Property
The property in the goods shall only pass to the customer upon payment of all sums ("the customer's debts") owing from the customer to the Company and the following provisions of this condition shall apply so long as any part of the customer's debts remain outstanding. The customer shall hold the goods in his fiduciary capacity as bailee or the Company, but shall nevertheless be entitled to sell and deliver the same to a third party in the normal course of the customer's business, on condition that the customer shall, on receipt of a written request from the Company assigned to the Company the customer's rights against the customer's customer in respect of such sale. Pending such sale the customer shall store and mark the goods in such a way that they are clearly the Company's property.
17. Defects
Defective goods or parts will be replaced in accordance any special conditions attached thereto but no claim for expenditure upon them or for other consequential loss or damage arising from such defective goods will be entertained.
18. Liquidation or Bankruptcy
In the event of the customer becoming bankrupt or going into liquidation (other than a voluntary liquidation for the purposes of reconstruction) suspending payments of debts or making any arrangements with creditors, the Company shall be entitled with prejudice to its other rights by notice in writing to determine the contract forthwith, without prejudice to its right to recover payment for all deliveries already made and for the cost of any goods already ordered or obtained for the purpose of future deliveries.
19. Arbitration
If any difference shall arise between the parties hereto touching upon the contract or the construction thereof or any matter in any way connected therewith or the rights or obligations of either party hereunder (other than as to payment to the Company) the same shall be referred to a single arbitrator agreed by both parties or in case they shall fail to agree to be appointed under the provisions of the Arbitration Act, 1950 or any subsequent enactment and modification or substitution therefore and the provisions of such act shall apply to such arbitration.
20. Conflict of Laws
The contract and all matters arising therefrom shall be subject to and governed by the Laws of England.
21. Waiver of Conditions or Indulgence
Any indulgence granted by the Company to a customer or any waiver by the Company of its rights under these conditions in respect of any particular transaction or series of transactions, shall not be deemed to be a waiver of the Company's rights in respect of any further transactions not to be in agreement to confer the same indulgence in respect of any further transaction.
22. Cancellation
In event of customer cancelling an order for any reason we reserve the right to make an appropriate cancellation charge.
