Hello Kate,

Regarding the second shipment of the new order, the estimated date is October.

We can accept the sensors if the production date is May 2026 .

Additionally, could you please let us know whether the latest batch of sensors has already arrived?

Thank you for your support.

Best Regards,
Tracy

Good afternoon Tracy,

I have heard from Ryan. He advises that in order for us to use the pricing of $32 each for the R-23V, we need a definite date for the second shipment on this new order. Are you able to provide a delivery date please?

I also need to say that we have to provide you with the sensors that are dated May 2026 as we have 200 in stock and we cannot supply the newer sensors to any customer without first selling the May dated sensors.

I await your reply. I am not in work tomorrow, but Ryan will be back.

Kind regards

Hello Kate,

Please notify us once the July shipment arrives. Please find attached the new order.

We would like to take the new batch from July. At that time, please arrange the following:

- 100 units from the remaining balance of Order-Justec-20260320001
- 100 units from Order-Justec-20260623001

→ Total pickup: 200 units

For the remaining 100 units of Order-Justec-20260623001, we will notify you later for shipment.

Thank you for your support.

Good morning Tracy,

Thank you for your email.

We have sensors dated May 2026 in stock, but I cannot guarantee that 200 (with the May date) will be available for long. I say 200 as you already have an order on for 100 x R-23V from March 2026.

We also have morte stock due in mid July.
