Hi Jean

I hope that you are all well. Do you have any news regarding the cables?

Regards

Steve

Hi Jean

I apologize for the delay in getting back to you, can you please review my request when you return back from your New Year celebrations. The cable is as per the attached image, we supply the complete cable which has press stud connections, you remove these and then fit your pinch clamps.

I have also attached a copy of the original purchase order for your reference.

Regards

Steve

Dear Steve,

Could you let me know about the cable that you need again? Since rewiring + shipping and custom cost can be a lot than the cable itself. We will do an analysis and help you find a best solution for you.

Thank you and best regards,

That is not good news Jean.

You have been reworking these for us since 2009, is there a specific reason why you now can't do it?

Regards

Steve

We urgently need the cables now.

May we please send you some more ECG cables for rewiring: convert from press stud to pinch clamp connections. See the attached order to cover.

Can you please confirm the delivery address to where we should ship the cables.
