Ryan

I'll need 1 x R33S1 and 2 x of the max 250 please.

Thanks

Hi Dave

Thank you for your email.

We are running out of stock of sensors at the moment as all production has been prioritised for medical use. However, we do have a small stock of the R-33S1 sensors available, but I would advise you to order them as soon as possible.

The sensor in your picture looks like a analytical version of the MAX-250 series sensors, which we have, but I am not familiar with that connection. Please can you send me the model number on the sensor and I will look into it for you.

Best regards

Ryan

Hey Ryan

Just to check if you have stock for the 33S1 and this below maxtec sensor ?

I'll need two of the above photo and one of the S331 sensor.

Do advise
