Dear Catrin

We have finally managed to get flights and have also decided to look into shipping some items. Apologies for the long silence, we have only made this process in the last 7 days.

Would it be possible to come on Monday (or whenever is most convenient) to buy some eye masks and also look at some of the other things you offered? Unfortunately we are still limited in space but have a little more than we originally anticipated!

I would like to purchase some of the largest make (for full term babies) one pack and then one of the medium size (premature but not micro) one pack please.

Thank you and best wishes, Leah
