Dear Kate,

I just have the confirmation from our Team that they want the R-22MED. Just let me know when the sensors can be delivered to the hospital.

Thank you in advance,

Regards

Hi Analia,

I am sorry for so many emails.

I have checked with Steve Hardaker, my technical colleague and asked him if the R-22MED is suitable for use in the VG70.

He informs me that there are now at least 8 different sensors that are used in the VG70. If your team or we have identified it as needing an

R-22MEDV, then an R-22MED > 9mV will be fine.

Steve Hardaker also mentioned that if this is for Rashid at St Thomas', Steve has narrowed it down to 2 types of suitable sensor: T-7s and R-22MEDV (or > 9mV R-22MED)

Please let me know if you think the R-22MED would be acceptable for your order of x20.

Many thanks.

Kind regards

Kate Griffiths

Good morning Analia,

Our warehouse team have asked me to enquire which machine/s you will be using the R-22MEDV (0110021) with? I can then advise you whether you could use the R-22MED (0110022) which we would be able to ship twenty of. This item is the same price of £34 each.

Thank you, I await your reply.

Kind regards

Kate Griffiths

Hi again Analia,

I have been asked to enquire if you would accept part shipment of six sensors, this is because the stock is quite low at this exceptional time.

We expect more stock in 2-3 weeks and would ship as soon as more becomes available.

I await your reply.

Many thanks.

Kind regards

Kate Griffiths
