All Contractors providing Maintenance and/or repair must ensure that they have a robust system in place whereby they are notified by either the OEM, or recommended or legislative bodies of any changes to repair and maintenance instructions, or any other essential safety information, and that they will also act in accordance with any notifications and identify such notifications and conclusions to the Trust EBME Manager or Operational Maintenance Manager. Maintenance and repair service providers must also have all necessary testing, measuring and repair equipment and ensure it is maintained and calibrated. Calibration certificates should be maintained. Calibration must be traceable to national and international standards records and must be kept for each piece of test, repair or maintenance equipment and be incorporated into the service providers quality assurance system. All personnel providing a maintenance and/or repair service must be fully competent and trained to provide such service.
