Hi Mikael

I apologise for my late reply.

I have attached the instructions for use for both the reusable and disposable sensors, the patient weights are sensor locations are specified against the sensor type.

Reusable Sensors

Adult Silicone and Clip type sensors - = >20kg

Paediatric reusable (small) - 0014753 = 10-20kg

We also now have a medium silicone finger sensor which is sized somewhere between Adult and paediatric and seems to suit larger paediatrics and small ladies - 0014754 = >20kg

Wrap sensor - 0014851 = >20kg (finger), 10-20kg (hand), <3kg (foot)

Disposable Sensors

Adult 10-AP - 0015010 = >20kg

Paediatric 10-PP - 0015011 = <20kg

Infant 10-IP - 0015012 = 3-10kg

Neonatal 10-NP - 0015013 = <3kg (foot), 3-10kg (toe)

Please note that you should use the disposable sensors with an extension cable, as the cable on the sensor is very short:

1.2m extension cable - 0014895

2.4m extension cable - 0014896

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Best regards

Ryan

Hi,

Which sensors, both normal multiple time use and disposable, do you recommend for children and infant?

Mainly wondering about 0014753, 001480, 0014851, 0015011, 0015012, 0015013. To which ages and which weight? Also, what is the currently availability in your stock?

Kind regards
