Hi Ryan Carburos has answered.

They will cut down the order to 97 units as is enough for them now.

They cannot accept manufacture date older than 6 months so there is not chance to use your old stock.

Please amend the order to 97 units.

Best Regards,

Maria Iglesias

Hi Maria

Yes, unfortunately nothing definite, but one of the guys at Teledyne is going to try and track down some stock for us, so hopefully we are not going to have to wait so long. Unfortunately it is unlikely that we will get a definitive answer until after the ThanksGiving holidays.

Best regards

Ryan

Hi Maria

Unfortunately I do not have good news regarding the 3x sensors. As Sarah mentioned we can supply you from stock, but the date code is for November 2020 (this has no impact on the warranty period).

If you want to proceed with 3x new sensors, then it could be up to 10 weeks. One of my colleagues is going to speak with Teledyne this evening to see if they have any sensors in stock with a later manufacturing date, we will come back to you as soon as we have an answer.

Best regards

Ryan

Dear Leonor,

Please be advised that 97 x T-1 sensors passed our QA process, however 3 out of the 100 failed. We do have older stock (date code Nov 2020) that we can offer as the 3 replacements.

Please can you advise how you would like to proceed with this order.

Kind regards

Sarah Walton
