Would you like to purchase the same 2 items as before - the V1000 and UltraMaxO2? Or just one of these?

Kind regards

Good morning Tiono,

Thank you for your email, please accept my reply on behalf of Zoey.

The output beats per minute is governed by the firmware and the micro controller - there is no adjustable calibration control.

If required the unit can be returned to Viamed for its accuracy to be checked and a Certificate of Calibration can be issued.

Many thanks.
