Hi Richard

Thank you, I have started the process for you. I expect we will be dispatching, no later than, the end of next week but I'll keep you informed.

I have received an email from Nick and hopefully my response to him has worked.

Please let me know if you have any further questions.

Kind regards

Thanks for the training material. I did look at the sim but unfortunately I could not actually see it due to IT has to approve any downloads that require to make software changes to a PC. There isn't a web based version by any chance?

Look forward to hearing from you
