Hi Jean,

Stewart Andrews here- as you can see below, I ordered other sensors off you in the past!

This time, I am looking for one R-17VAN with a Jack connection.

I am based in Dublin, Ireland, and would appreciate a quotation for one of these.

Many thanks and kind regards,

Hi Jean,

I'll take the older cell - if you could please modify the Pro-forma for me.

What is the best way to pay? Could I call you with the company credit card details?

Kind regards,
Stewart

Dear Stewart
Please see the attached pro-forma invoice for reference.
You are correct in the type of sensors required. However we are unable to supply the equivalent Helium sensor.

The sensors are available from stock.

We originally made the R-22AT to fit the older model ATA then had to make it smaller to fit the newer shallower models. We have therefore a small quantity of the cells for older model that are about a year old but should still last 2-3 years in a trimix analyser. If you wish to have one of these older sensors we could supply at £15.00.
