Hi Steve.

Wow I was under the impression that the reming sensors from June order would ship start off July whit the July order,

Anyway pleas send as your are surgesting on the 4 - 18 - 22 off July or earlier iff possible and pleas use express shipping for all the shipments.

Kind regards

Hi Jan

We are trying to catch up, but as you know supply chain issues with parts has been causing problems. I'll provide an update on Monday.

Thank you for the new order for 600 sensors (August).

Hi Steve.

AS we are getting closer to 1st week off July is there maybe a small chance that some sensors can ship out next week.

Also for August can you please prepare a shipment of 600 sensors.

Thanks,

Kind regards

Dear Jan

As you know we have kept our pricing stable for a very long time, way back to when the sensor was released in January 2011. However, we have finally had to succumb to all the unprecedented recent increases in costs. We have limited the pricing increase as much as possible, even though some of the recent cost increases have been excessive.

I have had to remove the UPS costs from the price list as these are ever changing. Shipments will be invoiced at the current UPS rates.

The attached new pricing will not affect existing orders and will come into effect on the 8th July 2022.

Kind regards
