John

I'm just checking that you received my earlier email?

Am I OK to go ahead and book flights. Going out Thursday, meeting Friday, return Saturday. Have you discussed with Jens, is he OK to meet on the Friday?

Hi John

To confirm, he is in Munich until the 13th? There appears to be convenient Easyjet flights, from approx £80+ return.

What about meeting Friday 9th?

Fly out Thursday return Saturday?

Dear John,

you are welcome to visit us anytime. Right now I am back from China and stay till February 13th. I will be back from China on March 5th.

We try to build up the back end production in Ningbo. This might take till April, May till all necessary machines exist and training is done. So I expect to travel again beginning of April.

The airport is 40min away by car. We are in the south of Munich. If you want to stay over night I would recommend to stay in the Hotel Klostermayer in Icking. This is very close to our office.

Both places, our office and the hotel in Icking is easily reachable by S-Bahn, the subway from Munich. Form the Airport it might take 1h and 15min, independent from the rush hour.

We look forward to see You or Steve soon

Best Regards

Peter

Dear Peter,

Further to our telephone conversation in December I trust you have returned from China.

I would like to meet up with you as soon as possible to discuss future possibilities in oxygen sensors.

My colleague Steve Nixon is in the UAE next week and has several appointments in February and March however I am sure we can fit in a visit to meet up with you.

Can you let me know any dates when it would be convenient. I would also like to know the address of your facility, how far it is from Munich airport and directions to get there.

Kind regards

John S. Lamb
