

February 03, 2020

RE: MicroMax Blender Requirement

Dear Valued Customer,

We are reaching out to select customers to offer an opportunity to purchase CE marked MicroMax Low and High Flow Blenders from a limited stock.

It has come to our attention that there may be delays in providing CE marked MicroMax's and some flowmeter devices over the next several months due to a change in Notified Body approval and the upcoming MDR European transition. Maxtec is planning and preparing accordingly to prevent problems with availability. We want to extend an offer to stock up while we have CE marked Micromax product available from our current inventory.

We suggest you have a 90 day stock of blenders.

The immediate step is to better understand what you might need right away while the MicroMax stock lasts and what you might need in the next 90 days. We would also like to have a blender forecast for the rest of 2020 just in case we have to offer a different version blender for the same price.

Sincerely,

The Maxtec Team