Hi Helen

Looks like a twist to the Maxtec mix up, did they supply a credit note?

Hello Amanda,

I have no records of this claim. but I will assist Steve with this complaint. Looks like it is not the same as a few weeks ago we issue a credit.

I showed SO ID# 291641. I will follow up with customers now.

Thank you for bringing this to my attention

Hello Steve,

Thank you for resending that to me, and I can clearly see we shipped the wrong product. I am sending this over to my colleague Osvaldo, as he works in our Quality department dedicated to returns and misshipments.

Osvaldo, as you can see, the wrong part was shipped to Viamed, and they are needing the R228P52 Screw. I am not sure what item was actually shipped to them, but can we get this taken care of for them?

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you,

Amanda Williams

Hi Amanda

On purchase order PVM1653 we ordered 20 x R228P52.

Please see the attached image, we were expecting to receive as per the lower package but we have received another part (upper pack in the image).
