I declare that I do not need a TV Licence and don't watch or record any of the following (please tick all that apply):

programmes as they're being shown on TV via an aerial, satellite dish or cable

programmes online as they're being shown on TV, whether on a smart TV, computer, tablet, mobile phone, games console, digital box or any other device

sports, music or other events shown live on TV, on any device

programmes as they're being shown on TV that originate from outside the UK

When do you expect to start watching or recording programmes as they're being shown on TV or an online TV service?

I have no such plans to watch or record TV

Your Declaration can only last up to three years. We'll get in touch with you again just before it expires to check if your circumstances have changed.

Please let us know the main reason why you don't need a TV Licence:

I do not have any TV receiving equipment

We may visit the address

We visit some addresses to check that the occupants do not need a TV Licence. This is because when we visit and make contact, we find almost one in five people that tell us they don't need a TV Licence actually do need one. If we find that you're watching TV illegally, you could risk prosecution and a fine of up to £1,000*

* The maximum fine in Jersey is £500 and the maximum fine in Guernsey is £2,000.
