Hi Derek,

First: Your certification will not be delayed.

I have reviewed your corrective action plan and found it to be acceptable.

I have the half day for desktop review of your corrective actions booked for the 1st of October. Would you please send me the documentation by then. The documentation I require is for the major nonconformities: I will need the clinical evaluation for the Tom Thumb and the additional information to be supplied by Envitec. If you choose to send additional information for the minors I will close any of those that I can.

The option for OBL manufacturers to point to OEM technical files appears to remain open. Currently you need to hold a STED and the balance of technical information should be made available to BSI through the OEM.

Kind regards

Richard Tully

Subject: Action Plan Viamed

Hi Richard,

With BSI double booking me back in August, when I sent my action plan I sent all my QC21 form to yourself,

I'm now being chased by BSI for action plans based on Malcolm Goodall report.

I've forwarded the email I sent you on the 26th August containing all my QC21 forms, I've got a reply saying Mr goodall in now on holiday.

Can you check for me BSI are happy and not going to delay the review of my certificate.
